Concise Record of the Week.

EASTERN.

Senator Henry B. Anthony, of Rhode Island, died suddenly at Providence, from an attack of vertigo. He was apparently in his usual good health until within an hour or two of his demise. Deceased was born at Coventry, R. I., on the 1st of April, 1815. In 1833 he entered Brown University at Providence, where he graduated four years later. Shortly after leaving college he became editor of the Providence Journal. For thirty years Mr. Anthony occupied the editorial chair of that paper. He was elected Governor of Rhode Island in 1849, and was so successful in his administration that he was re-elected the following year. In 1859 he was elected to the United States Senate as the nominee of the Union Republicans. He was returned in 1864, in 1870, in 1876, and again in 1882. He was elected President pro tem of the Senate March 23, 1889, and again on the 10th of March, 1891.

Charles J. Folger, Secretary of the Treasury, died on the 4th inst. at Geneva, N. Y., in his 66th year. His demise is attributable to overwork. For two weeks he had been unable to lie down, and he died while sitting in a chair. Up to within twenty-four hours of his death he insisted upon answering official telegrams. The deceased was born in Nantucket, Mass., April 16, 1818. In 1830 his father removed to Geneva, N. Y., where Mr. Folger lived the rest of his life. After leaving college Mr. Folger studied law, and was admitted to the bar when 21 years old. His first office was that of Judge of the Court of Common Pleas, to which he was appointed in 1844, and he was soon after made a Master and Examiner in Chancery. In 1851 he was elected County Judge, and in 1861 he was elected to the New York State Senate as a Republican, which party he had entered on its formation. He remained in the State Senate until 1869, when President Grant appointed him Assistant United States Treasurer for New York City. He was elected Judge of the Court of Appeals (the highest court in the State of New York) in 1870, and on the death of Chief Justice Church, in May, 1880, he was appointed to fill the vacancy, and in the following November was elected to the place for the full term of fourteen years. In November, 1881, he resigned the position to accept that of Secretary of the Treasury in President Arthur's Cabinet. He ran against Grover Cleveland for Governor in 1882, and was defeated by nearly 200,000 majority.

The Treasury Department at Washington was closed on the 5th inst. out of respect to the late Secretary Folger. Assistant Secretary Connel will be Acting Secretary until the President nominates Secretary Folger's successor.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Gen. McKeever, of the Adjutant General's Department, who has been studying the diaries brought from the Arctic regions, finds evidence that Lieut. Greeley was seriously lacking as a commander. Gen. Sheridan strongly objects to his promotion to a vacant quartermastership. There is a deepening mystery in regard to the death of Surgeon Pavy.

Near Las Vegas, New Mexico, a party of rancheros overhauled a gang of cattle-thieves, gave chase, and shot and wounded one of the gang, who fell from his horse. The others escaped. They then carried the wounded man some distance on their horses, until, reaching a good-sized tree, they deliberately hanged the thief, notwithstanding his piteous pleadings.

Edward J. Howe, aged 22, confidential clerk of Thomas Simpson, a Montreal insurance agent, has absconded, and is a defaulter for a large sum.

Jim McHugh, of Glasgow, and Dave Fitzgerald, of Toronto, fought forty-five rounds with hard gloves at Rockaway Beach, L. I., the battle ending in a draw, albeit McHugh had the best of the contest. The men becoming vicious, and a general row being imminent, the referee had the pugilists called from the ring after three hours and forty-five minutes fighting.

There were 199 failures in the United States during the week, and thirteen in Canada.

By the completion of the Louisiana and Texas Road, C. P. Huntington has secured a through line from Newport News to San Francisco.

The Parnellite members of Parliament will present an ultimatum to the Gladstone Government at the opening of the extra session of Parliament during the address in reply to the Queen's speech. They will probably demand a public Parliamentary inquiry into the methods of the Dublin

Castle officials, and certain other concessions, as the price of their support of the Government on the franchise bill.

The Pope has sent $2,000 to Naples for the cholera sufferers. The people of that city seem to believe that the Archbishop is in complicity with the physicians to poison them. The King has suspended officials in several cities who took arbitrary measures against the spread of the epidemic. The outbreak at Novella, Spain, was caused by the opening of bales of rags smuggled from France. The foreign Consuls at Alicante protest against the isolation of that city.

LATER NEWS ITEMS.

Notices have been posted in various parts of Lewis County, Tennessee, warning the Mormons now residing there to leave within thirty days under pain of death.

Julius B. Fredericks, one of the sergeants in the Greely expedition, is at Indianapolis. He denies that there were two factions in the expedition; says he has no knowledge of any cannibalism; and, in speaking of Henry's execution, says he was shot by orders while in the act of stealing sealskins.

A determined run on the First National Bank of New Brunswick, N. J., was soon followed by the suspension of payments. Charles S. Hill, the cashier, who committed suicide last week, is now known to be a defaulter for $225,000 or more.

In the National Base Ball League race the record at the end of the week stood as follows: Providence, 70 games; Boston, 62; Buffalo, 51; New York, 50; Chicago, 45; Cleveland and Philadelphia, 31 each, and Detroit, 21. In the American Association games Metropolitan has won 58 games; Columbus, 56; Louisville, 53; Cincinnati, 52; St. Louis, 49; Athletics, 46; Baltimore, 45; Brooklyn, 38; Toledo, 31, and Pittsburgh and Indianapolis, 24 games each. The St. Louis leads in the Union Association, having won 57 games; Boston comes next with 37 games, and Cincinnati and Pittsburgh are a tie with 34 games each to their credit. The Northwestern League has disbanded.

The recent declaration of Earl Spencer that the policy of concession toward the Irish could not be carried further has, Mr. Chamberlain says, retarded by twenty years the pacification of Ireland, and the Parnellite orators have taken the expression as the text for their speeches in the autumn campaign. In the meantime a new party is said to be in progress of organization in Ireland. It proposes to favor home rule on the basis of loyalty to the crown; to establish peasant proprietorship in Ireland; and to form an Irish Parliament, to sit in Dublin, the members of which shall take an oath of allegiance to the Queen. It is expected to split the Parnell party, in that it will grant the two principles which form the foundation of their political faith. With it all, the condition of Ireland is said to be rapidly improving.

The Italians are greatly frightened by the cholera epidemic. They superstitiously regard it as an invention of the doctors and the priests.

At a conference of the Tammany leaders in New York, after a number of speeches had been made, John Kelly was asked to give his views. He spoke at some length. He referred to Tammany's recognition by the last State convention, and to the proceedings of the national convention. He thought that all differences should be forgotten, and that Tammany should support the regular Democratic ticket. "Tammany Hall has always been, is now, and always will be a Democratic organization," he said, "and as such must endorse the nominees of the Democratic convention. This must be done, not only as a matter of policy, but because we are Democrats and should be consistent with our record. This support is meant in good faith," he added; "Tammany always supports its candidates honestly, and will go to the polls and vote for Cleveland and Hendricks." No formal vote was taken, but the opinion was unanimous after Mr. Kelly's speech that the organization should support the Democratic ticket.

Albany (N. Y.) dispatch: The "Jacksonians"—a political organization—serenaded Gov. Cleveland to night. The Governor, as he appeared, was saluted by the band playing "See, the Conquering Hero Comes," and the cheers of the crowd. Gov. Cleveland acknowledged the compliment of the serenade, and complimented the club on its handsome appearance, expressing hope that the cause it so creditably represented might be successful. The appearance of the Governor and his remarks were greeted with great enthusiasm.
